

hei solar light™ is also highly suitable for many private applications.

Light needs electricity and electricity costs money.

Self-sufficient solar lights are basically independent from the power supply and help to cut electricity costs.

Equipped with motion detectors and a light management adapted to the location, hei solar light™ is also able to fulfil private demands.