

Light means safety!

The light management can be adjusted to the required needs offering additional security.

If movement is detected by the motion sensors, the solar light switches to increased luminosity.

Otherwise, the solar light operates in the energy-saving mode. This helps to save energy and ensures a high operational reliability.