

HEI wins Energy Globe Austria in the category Fire for the project Photovoltaic Solar Facades

(Wels, 11.11.2005) - At the Energy Globe Gala in the Welser Bosch Hall with an audience of more than 1000 guests, Dieter Hornbachner (HEI) and Martin Aichinger (CEO of Ertex Solar GmbH) received the Energy Globe Austria award as the winners in the category Fire for the project Photovoltaic Modules for Solar Facades. The winning project thus prevailed over more than 50 other energy projects that were submitted in this category. The judges stated that the winning project opens up entirely new applications for photovoltaics in the building area, which represents a substantial contribution to a sustainable energy future.

Minister of the Environment of Upper Austria Rudolf Anschober presents Dieter Hornbachner with the Energy Globe Austria for the best project in the category Fire.

From left to right: Dr. Johannes Jetschgo (ORF), State Councillor Rudolf Anschober (Upper Austria, State Government), DI Dr Dieter Hornbachner (hei), Martin Aichinger (Ertex Solar), CEO Dr Leopold Windtner (Energie AG)

Fotos: Energy Globe, HEI